

Managing Millennial Performance

Date:

Tuesday, March 27, 2018

Time:

10:00 a.m. to 11:00 a.m.

LEARN MORE

$75 for Members / $95 Non-Members

$20 discount per webinar when you register for the entire Millennial series (add all webinars* to cart for discount)

Employers must make changes to the standard performance review process to keep millennials engaged and working efficiently. Please join us for this 60-minute webinar to learn how to improve your performance review program and how process shifts can result in positive changes in millennial workers.

What you will Learn:

- How to create the right expectations in millennials.
- Modifications to frequency of reviews.
- Support for millennials throughout the year.
- How to use the right tone for corrective actions.
- Building trust to make performance reviews easier for millennials.

Expert Presenter:

Amy J. Keely is an award-winning Marketer, CEO and Professor whose information-packed workshops, seminars and master classes have provided help entrepreneurs and business professionals expand their knowledge to identify areas of growth. She holds a Bachelor of Arts degree in English from the University of Michigan, a Master in Business Administration (MBA) and a Master of Education (M.Ed.) and is now a Ph.D. candidate.

Certification:

One (1) credit for the MI Chamber Basic or Advanced Human Resource Compliance AND Management & Supervision Certification Programs.

One (1) HR (General) recertification credit hour for PHR, SPHR and GPHR recertification through the HR Certification Institute.

One (1) PDC for the SHRM-CP or SHRM-SCP